The McCallen Society 2022 Impact Report

Today’s Dream, Tomorrow’s Legacy
OUR MISSION

The McCallen Society is a community of generous alumni, benefactors, and friends who demonstrate their commitment to the values of St. Vincent de Paul by including St. John's University in their estate plans. It was named in honor of Rev. Thomas J. McCallen, C.M., whose vision helped St. John's relocate to Queens, NY, in 1955.

The society’s planned gifts fund scholarships, programs, and initiatives, as well as University enhancements and facility upgrades needed to ensure student success. For members, the benefits are academic, cultural, and social. Members are invited to an exclusive annual luncheon hosted by Rev. Brian J. Shanley, O.P., President of St. John’s University, and various off-campus events.
A Letter from Susan M. Damiani, MBA, ’87CBA
Director of Gift Planning and The McCallen Society

Dear fellow McCallen member,

This year’s McCallen Society Impact Report is devoted to legacy. So many of you have a family legacy at St. John’s that we wanted to showcase the deep-rooted heritage that is instilled at our alma mater.

For me, I was a typical high school graduate longing to go away to school until my father gave me the thumbs down. When my Uncle Harry kept singing the school song, “Old St. John’s,” at every family function leading up to my college decision, how could I not enroll there?

My claim to fame is being the first female in my family to attend St. John’s out of four uncles who are alumni. I take pride in this accomplishment because it says a lot about my family, their school pride, and the encouragement they offered me as I pursued a college degree to better myself.

I would like to give a shout-out to my uncles because they are, and were, Johnnies through and through. The late Harry Hoeg ’49CBA became an agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and raised a family of three in New City, NY; Don McDonald ’63CBA ran his own premium incentive business and pursued his degree in the evening and Thomas McDonald was Senior Vice President at General Signal, where he traveled quite often to the Middle East. He was a member of a business fraternity.

Lastly, Renold Damiani ’68C followed my dad who was recruited by the late Coach Jack Kaiser to play baseball for St. John’s—to run the family furniture business. My Uncle Renold was a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon and played club football.

I mention their names because they had a real affection for, and great memories of, St. John’s. I hope by sharing their names and affiliations it will conjure up family and school memories for you, too.

As I write this letter, reminiscing about them brings back many of my own college memories. Since I have such a fondness for them, I want to dedicate this report to my loving uncles. Not only were they successful in their own way, but they are, and were, faithful to their family and church, and gave back to their communities in keeping with the University’s Vincentian mission.

Legacy is setting an example for others that helps guide their futures. Whether you were the first to attend St. John’s or you followed other family members, The McCallen Society leads by example for our students and perhaps some of your family members.

Your example is creating change and hopefully a better world. Thank you for your continued commitment and support this past year. St. John’s cannot fulfill its mission without you.

Sincerely,

Susan M. Damiani, MBA, ’87CBA

For Mary Carole Schafenberg ‘70Ed, 80PD, the St. John’s family is indeed forever—and with the recently endowed scholarship created by this generous and loyal alumna, that forever is destined to stretch well into the future.

“My mother was a role model for me,” she noted. “In 1939, she earned her R.N. degree, and in 1942 she enrolled at St. John’s to get her B.S. in Nursing Education. After graduating from the program in 1945, she taught nursing arts and pharmacology at St. John’s Lewis Avenue location. She was a wonderful nurse, always helping people in any way that she could.”

It was inevitable that Ms. Schafenberg would, like her mother, attend the University that was such a part of her family history. While pursuing her degree in Elementary Education, she became a member of Delta Kappa Delta Sorority, Inc., which she acknowledged to be “one of the best decisions I ever made as a St. John’s student.”

“To this day I am blessed with lifelong friends from my sorority days, and we continue to see each other and get together on a regular basis,” she said. “These women have enhanced my life.”

After earning the first of her two degrees from the University, Ms. Schafenberg devoted her professional life to education, first as a classroom teacher and later as an Education Administrator, Assistant Principal, and Principal, all within the New York City Department of Education. Never faltering in her love for St. John’s, she has served in a number of capacities, including founder and current member of the Schermerhorn Street Reunion Committee, member of both The Loughlin and McCallen Societies, member of The School of Education Alumni Advisory Board, and member of The President’s Cabinet Gift Society. In 2010, a grateful University honored her with the Alumni Outstanding Achievement Award.

When St. John’s announced the creation of a B.S. in Nursing degree program, Ms. Schafenberg immediately saw it as an opportunity to say thank you to the University she loves. A scholarship for future nursing students honors the memory of her mother by providing financial assistance to young people committed to entering that noble profession.

“The scholarship was established to continue the legacy of St. John’s by reaching out a hand to others, and also to continue my mother’s legacy of service to the community by encouraging future students to follow in her footsteps through becoming a part of the profession that meant so much to her,” she explained. “I urge everyone to consider giving an endowment to St. John’s, because it truly is such a lasting and enriching institution.”

The new Health Sciences Center will be completed in 2024
This past year, the Office of Gift Planning introduced The McCallen Society Salon Events and pickleball—one of the fastest growing sports in the country—to its members. These programs allowed for a more intimate gathering of like-minded individuals who share the values we embrace in The McCallen Society: commitment, community, and culture. They were well received, and we look forward to another year of fantastic and engaging programming. Stay tuned!

Additionally, we continue to explore new areas of interest with our monthly Power Hour Series and our weekly fitness classes with the Jammin’ Johnnies! It has been an eventful year, and we are grateful to all who participated. For more details on upcoming events and Power Hours, visit www.stjohns.edu/powerhour.

Emily Encalada, an honor student in the B.S. in Marketing degree program in The Peter J. Tobin College of Business, will always have a familial bond with St. John’s University as she comes from a family that includes several St. John’s alumna.

“I love St. John’s University so much,” the Queens, NY, native acknowledged. “I fell in love with it during my first year of high school. That’s not surprising given my sister, Kristen Encalada ’21C, and one of my relatives, Karol J. Parra ’11GEd, went here. So to me, when I was considering where to go for my undergraduate studies, St. John’s was already at the top of the list. I wanted to go to a Catholic college or university so that I could get involved with Campus Ministry programs. Helping others has always been important to me—and that’s really what St. John’s is all about.”

Once she arrived at St. John’s, Emily quickly became a part of University life. An acknowledged campus leader, she serves as a Student Ambassador, devoting her time to promoting St. John’s to prospective students and their families by sharing her personal story of being a part of the University she loves.

She is also the Voting Chair of the Budget Committee of Student Government, Inc., a position which allows her to use what she learns in the classroom as she analyzes the financial data of student organizations and votes on their budgetary allocation requests.

Since January 2021, Emily has worked as a Student Alumni Associate in the University’s Office of Alumni Relations, a position that has allowed her to interact with hundreds of alumni and reap the benefits of their expertise and experience.

“I love talking with alumni about what St. John’s means to them,” she said. “This wonderful University has done so much for so many people, and as a result of what I’ve learned from them, my eyes are wide open to all of the opportunities that the University has to offer. These opportunities are not limited to students. The alumni network is vast and diverse, and can always be counted on to assist us even after we graduate.”

A true legacy in every sense of the word, Emily is committed to carrying the Vincentian values with her into the world when she graduates in 2024, both personally and professionally.

“I love St. John’s University so much. I fell in love with it during my first year of high school. That’s not surprising given my sister, Kristen Encalada ’21C, and one of my relatives, Karol J. Parra ’11GEd went here.”
